CHESTERTON HIGH SCHOOL

Chesterton, Indiana

Cover design

by

Mr. Joseph Koss

In the years gone by, Chesterton has been striving to attain more prominent heights, in the classrooms, on the athletic field, and after school has adjourned. Our science departments and others are growing rapidly. In the past year, new faces have been added and some old ones are attaining greater interest in the school. The association between student and teacher has greatly improved and should continue in the future. Our youth continues to develop mentally and spiritually as well as physically. Through this medium, higher levels will steadily be reached.

"I promise," states Ben Howery in his quest for the presidency.

DEMOCRATIC

Al Gaston: Mah friends, and I know you all are mah friends.

No national presidential campaign between the democrats and republicans could have had more unflinching spirit or more practical motives than the 1955-56 Chesterton High School election for president and vice president of the Student Council.

Bosom buddies, Bruce Bassett and Ben Howery were chosen to oppose each other in the race for the presidency. With a flurry of posters, speeches, and parades, these boys opened the most dynamic and well-balanced campaign in CHS history.

The campaign banners of Al Gaston and Jerry Goldstine, junior candidates for vice president, were soon flying full mast.

Democracy prevailed in every move of the campaign. Political platforms of the four candidates were presented to the student voters. They were urged to think about the candidates' personality, his ideas, and his industry and dependability.

And then on October 4, enlightened citizens of CHS cast their ballots. After days of painstaking work and keen competition, the inevitable winners and losers were selected.

Bruce, the new president, and Al, the new vice president, with their worthy and admirable opponents, Ben and Jerry, resumed their former lives.

Bruce Bassett: Please! Please! Vote for me.

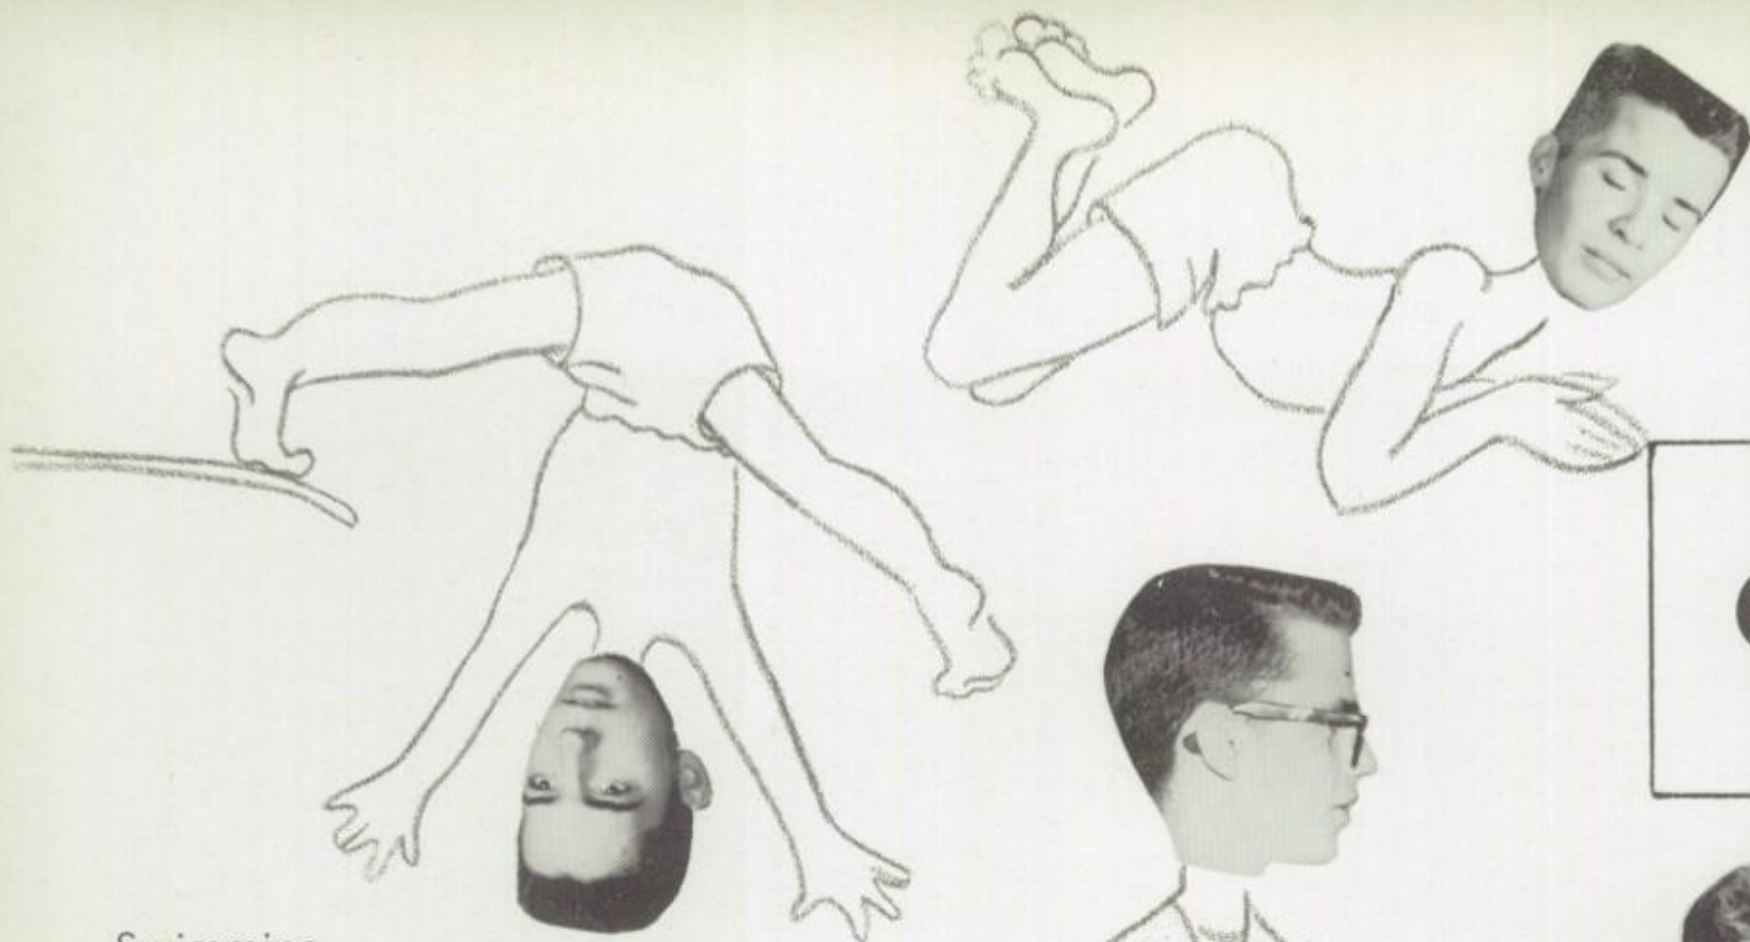

IDEALS FLOURISH

Jerry Goldstine: Now it sezs here.

The boys have learned a valuable lesson—how to win and how to lose—and the students have learned with them. They carried out the code of sportsmanship to the hilt, and the Singing Sands of 1956 would like to offer them its sincere congratulations.

Tired Out

After a vote by the Student Council, ruling out individual class teams, girls interested in Intramural play were drawn at random; and the teams had representatives from each grade.

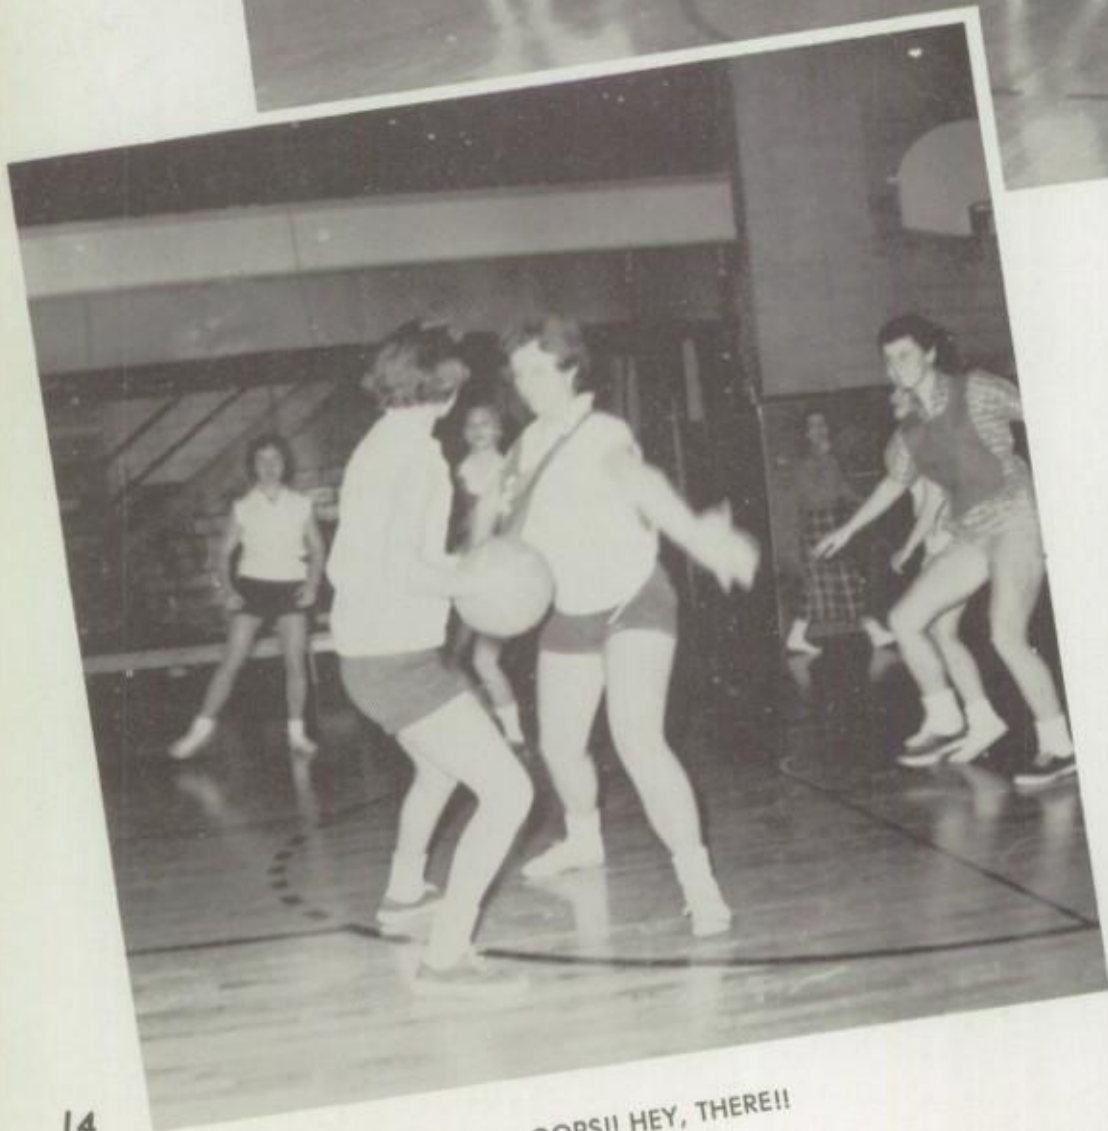

With this new system, all athletically-minded females arrayed in flashing colors, spent their lunch periods in stimulating and highly competitive basketball games.

Both a round robin and a double-elimination tournament were held with the outstanding "women in white" winning the tournament. This completed an undefeated season for the white.

This year's teams, consisting of boys not in varsity competition, were organized to give noon time recreation and promote good sportsmanship.

The teams are coached by members of the varsity squad, and the games are refereed by team members who aren't coaches.

The games are played in round robin style, and the winning team members receive awards.

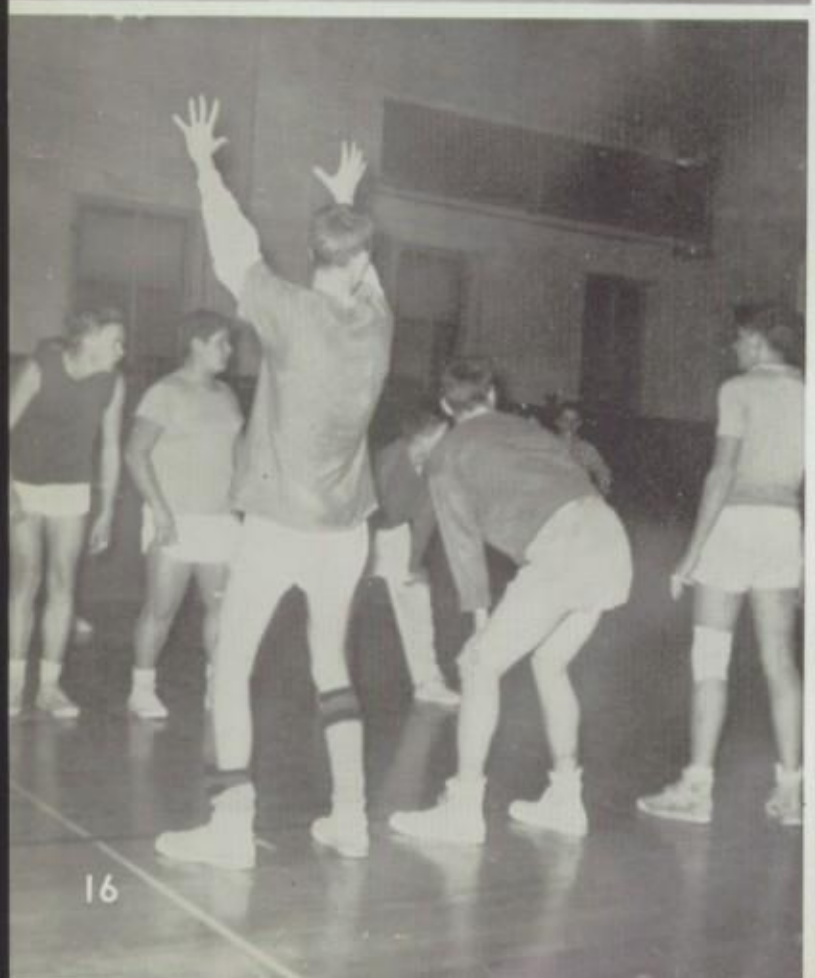

The high scorers this season were John Ruoff and Dale Wheeler.

BUDDING TALENT

Opportunity night is an annual talent show for the Junior and Senior high school students. It gives the students a chance to present their talents. Each class is given an opportunity to present three acts apiece, with a total of no more than eight participants. There are three categories: comedy, serious, and solo. There is a first prize and an honorable mention from each category.

The first prize of $5.00 in the afternoon went to: Tex and Slim, serious; Hungry Five, comedy; and Danny Gould, solo. First prize of $10.00 in the evening went to Tex and Slim, serious; Hungry Five, comedy; and Martha Nelson, solo. All cash awards are automatically deposited in the class treasuries.

The minstrel show, put on by the local male talent and teachers, was sponsored by the boosters with the backing of the local merchants.

Ralph Anderson wrote the script and emceed the minstrel. To conclude this "spectacular" was a style show which portrayed all the earliest women's wear exhibited by male models. One of the stars of the style show was our own Mr. Dunbar modeling a sailing outfit.

Anita Bush and Bill Hayes were all smiles when asked about their reign as king and queen of the 1955 Prom, "Younger Than Springtime."

"Younger Than Springtime," theme of the prom of 1955, was the highlight of last year's social season. Barker Hall in Michigan City was adorned with yards and yards of blue and white crepe paper streamers. Picket fences covered with flowers and a striking fountain set in the center of the hall, created an aura of gaiety and carefreeness. The sparkling eyes and happy smiles of the prom-goers perfected the already enchanting setting.

We the Singing Sands Staff of '56 wish to dedicate this book to Mr. Shields in recognition of his friendliness to the boys and girls of our school. A fine unselfish character who has always been on hand to accommodate us even though it may have been an inconvenience to him.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

It all started in 1952 when the "old hands" from Chesterton Junior High and the "new recruits" from St. Pat's began the adventurous task of making themselves into a unified, capable class. In their initial election they chose Sandy Young for president; Dick Hokanson, vice president; Carol Groff, secretary; Warren Ormiston, treasurer; and John Lascoe, Student Council Representative. Opportunity Night was their first chance to work as a team and they came out in first place with "The Man I Love" and "Melancholy Baby." Then came the exciting Freshman-Sophomore Reception making them full-fledged students of CHS. In May the freshman class party was held in the gym. Crepe paper streamers spelled out "Class of '56." They just laughed. It was a long way off.

By the time their sophomore year came, the class of '56 was as permanent a part of CHS as the squeak of the floors in the old building. Each day under the leadership of John Lascoe, president; Carol Groff, vice president; Kathleen Earley, secretary; Warren Ormiston, treasurer; and Karen Wallin, student council representative, they came closer to their goal of becoming a true class. As hosts of the Freshman-Sophomore Reception they had that experienced feeling of knowing the ropes. A class picnic and dance at Goodfellow Camp terminated their second year of learning and laughing.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

"Popcorn, fresh popcorn." Would you like to buy a magazine?" "Now these are the best Christmas trees in town." Whenever people saw a member of the junior class, they ducked for he was sure to be selling something. 1955 was packed full of projects to raise money for the New Year's Eve Dance and the Prom. On May 6, after months of vigorous planning, hard work, and determination to make it a hit, "Younger Than Springtime" their first prom, became a reality. The brains behind the brawn this year were President John Lascoe; Vice President Ben Howery; Secretary Pat Slont; Treasurer Warren Ormiston; and Student Council Representative Karen Wallin. The class chose Judy Bishop and Bruce Bassett as candidates for Vice President of the Student Council with Judy winning in a close race.

Well, it won't be long now—Baccalaureate, Senior Day, Commencement, and good-by. With this in mind the seniors wasted no time in making their last year one never to be forgotten. For the third consecutive time, John Lascoe was elected class president. Mark Holmberg became vice president; Sandy Young, secretary; Bill Jeffrey, treasurer; and Ben Howery, student council representative. The Fall Fiesta was held in St. Pat's gym. "The Hungrey Five" a German Band, won first prize for comedy in Opportunity Night. After a dynamic campaign opposing Ben Howery, Bruce Bassett emerged as President of the Student Body. The Senior Play, working on the annual, and the prom brought this their final year to a fleeting unbelievable close. Now after four years of making history for the Maroon and Gold, they leave their Alma Mater. With fighting hearts and sturdy minds they advance into the hazy, challenging future, always and forever a compliment to CHS.

The Junior Class, at the start of school, began looking forward to the rewarding high light of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom. Money and a great deal of planning were needed to make the prom a success. The whole class assisted in a scrap and magazine drive to help get funds. They also made money from the popcorn machine and concessions.

SOPHOMORES

Traditional hosts for the Freshman-Sophomore reception, the sophomores had many plans to fulfill. Chosen to lead this project and many others throughout the year, the Sophomore class elected Denny Dille, president; Ron Wycoff, vice president; Don Wycoff, secretary; Leonard Jersey, treasurer; and Nancy Hokanson, student council representative.

On Opportunity Night they afforded such talented soloists as Danny Gould, trumpet player, and Mike Haklin, accordion player. The sophomore class was awarded first prize, and honorable mention, respectively.

Chesterton's mighty harriers for the fifth straight year distinguished themselves among top teams in the State of Indiana. Showing exceptional depth for a small school. The Trojans finished 8th in their quest, along with 140 other schools for a state championship.

The seven teams that bested the "bare-foot boys from Chesterton" have larger enrollments from which to draw athletes, yet they can't boast of the consistently superior showing the runners from the small school of Chesterton have displayed annually.

Coach Raymond Edman's harriers sped through the season with seven wins and two losses both to the state runnerup, Hobart. During big meets they placed first in the closed division of the Shortridge Invitational, second in the Marion Invitational, fourth at the Hobart Invitational and second at the Hobart Sectional.

Veteran runner, Dave Coombs, earned the school, the team, and himself state-wide recognition with his sterling performances. Coombs garnered first position in every big meet except the state finals where he finished a close second. His best time this year was 9:37.7 at the Hobart Invitational.

Chesterton will lose Warren Ormiston, four year letter-winner in cross country, Bob Wozniak, Bill Jeffery, and Coombs due to graduation. Others responsible for the team's success were Ed Tilden, Gerry Humphrey, Bob Lowther, Lenny Jersey, Pete Coombs, Roy Ormiston, Morris Medley, Jim Medley, and Len Cooper.

Secretly Chesterton's 1955 baseball team claimed the County Championship; officially we retained the title, but finished in a tie for the lead with Wheeler. During the season the Trojans soundly trounced the co-holder 7-2. This lopsided decision was the basis of their boast.

Experienced senior letter winners who led the team were: Bruce Bassett, catcher; Don Chaplin, outfielder; Al Jensen, pitcher; and Howard Kremke, first baseman. These boys and the rest of the team were recipients of gold baseballs signifying their top position in the county.

BASKETBALL

A great deal of the load of the '56 basketball team rested on the shoulders of the five returning lettermen: Bruce Bassett, Don Chaplin, Al Jensen, Warren Ormiston, and Bob Wozniak.

The Trojans began the season determined to equal the previous year's undefeated record; however, they met their first defeat at Portage after winning the first five games.

Chesterton entered the County Tourney with a very respectable 8-3 record. The triumphant Trojans played Hebron in the final game of the Porter County Tourney. Since this was the third year they have won the County Tourney and the second year in a row, they were permanent holders of the Vidette Messenger traveling trophy.

After emerging victorious from the County Tourney, the rest of the season progressed with CHS winning 4 and losing 2 during this time. At the close of this year's season, the Chesterton varsity had a 12-5 record.

With potential, favoritism, and determination, the varsity boys went into the sectionals only to be defeated in their second game by their county rival, Portage. The Trojans were a team everyone wanted to beat.

Coach Evar Elquist used every man on his bench during the game and every player scored at least one basket. Sophomore Denny Dille led the Trojans scoring with 16 points on eight baskets.

Bob Conklin, playing only part of the game, scored 14 points. Jensen finished with 11.

Bright spot for the Morgan Cherokees was the play of Larry Owen, junior center for the Cherokees. Owen scored 28 points during the contest on 9 baskets.

The "A" team had three wins and nine losses in regular season play. They lost both of their games in the tournament, which was held in Valparaiso. Jim Medley and Bob Didelot were high scorers for the "A" team.

The "B" team season record was three wins and six losses.

Even though coming out on the "short end" of the ball games, the frosh showed a definite improvement during the latter part of the season.

"To my knowledge this has been the most active Student Council in the history of Chesterton High School; both in activities and student participation," remarked Mr. Warren Munro, sponsor.

Among the projects undertaken this year by the council were the choosing of a school pep song and a school loyalty song. Supervision and use of the intercom was turned over to the student body. Working with a student committee the student council completely revised the Student Guide Book, making it more interesting and up-to-date. The group successfully sponsored the New Year's Eve Dance. Intramurals were smoothly carried out with tournaments climaxing the boys' and girls' divisions. Dancing and debating were introduced for the first time to promote noon-time recreation. The duration of the campaign for student council offices was one of the constitutional changes affected.

Regular locker inspections were made by council members through the year. They also promoted a drive to keep the auditorium clean at lunch time, decorated the school for Christmas, helped select paid convocations, and promoted a successful clothing drive.

REGISTRATION

VOTING

"Where's your story?" "Someone dummy this!" "I just can't write today." "We'll never get this paper out on time!"

These worn-out quotes along with the clickety-clack of typewriters, the buzz of the mimeograph, and flying papers create the bustling, journalistic atmosphere of the C.H.S. paper, Scoop.

Published every Thursday, hours of scouting for news and preparing it for press go into the make-up of each eight-page issue.

SCOOP

The Scoop, edited by Woods Halley and sponsored by Mrs. Mary Dold, is recognized as one of the top mimeographed papers in Indiana.

Five division managers worked under the ever-ruling hand of their czar, Woods. Beverly Witte, mother of the Scoop room, took care of all office details. Colorful and informative sports stories were hurriedly written under the whip of Sports Editor, Dave Coombs. Bruce Bassett handled financial matters and advertising. Assembling and drawing the ads was directed by Sally Holm. "Wandering" Sabina Phillips put her talents toward increasing the circulation of the Scoop.

SINGING SANDS STAFF

New ideas were finally put into use by this year's staff under the leadership of John Lascoe, editor. John chose Pat Slont as copy editor, Carol Groff as picture editor, and Ben Howery as business manager.

Thirty two pages were added to the yearbook with color as one of the many added attractions; and a hard-back cover designed by Joseph Koss, art director.

With the hurry and scurry of making deadlines, promptness was the prime requisite for every member of the staff.

The Annual Staff extends its thanks to Mr. Shields and Mr. Munro for taking time to sponsor us.

JUNIOR Y-TEENS

OFFICERS

OFFICERS

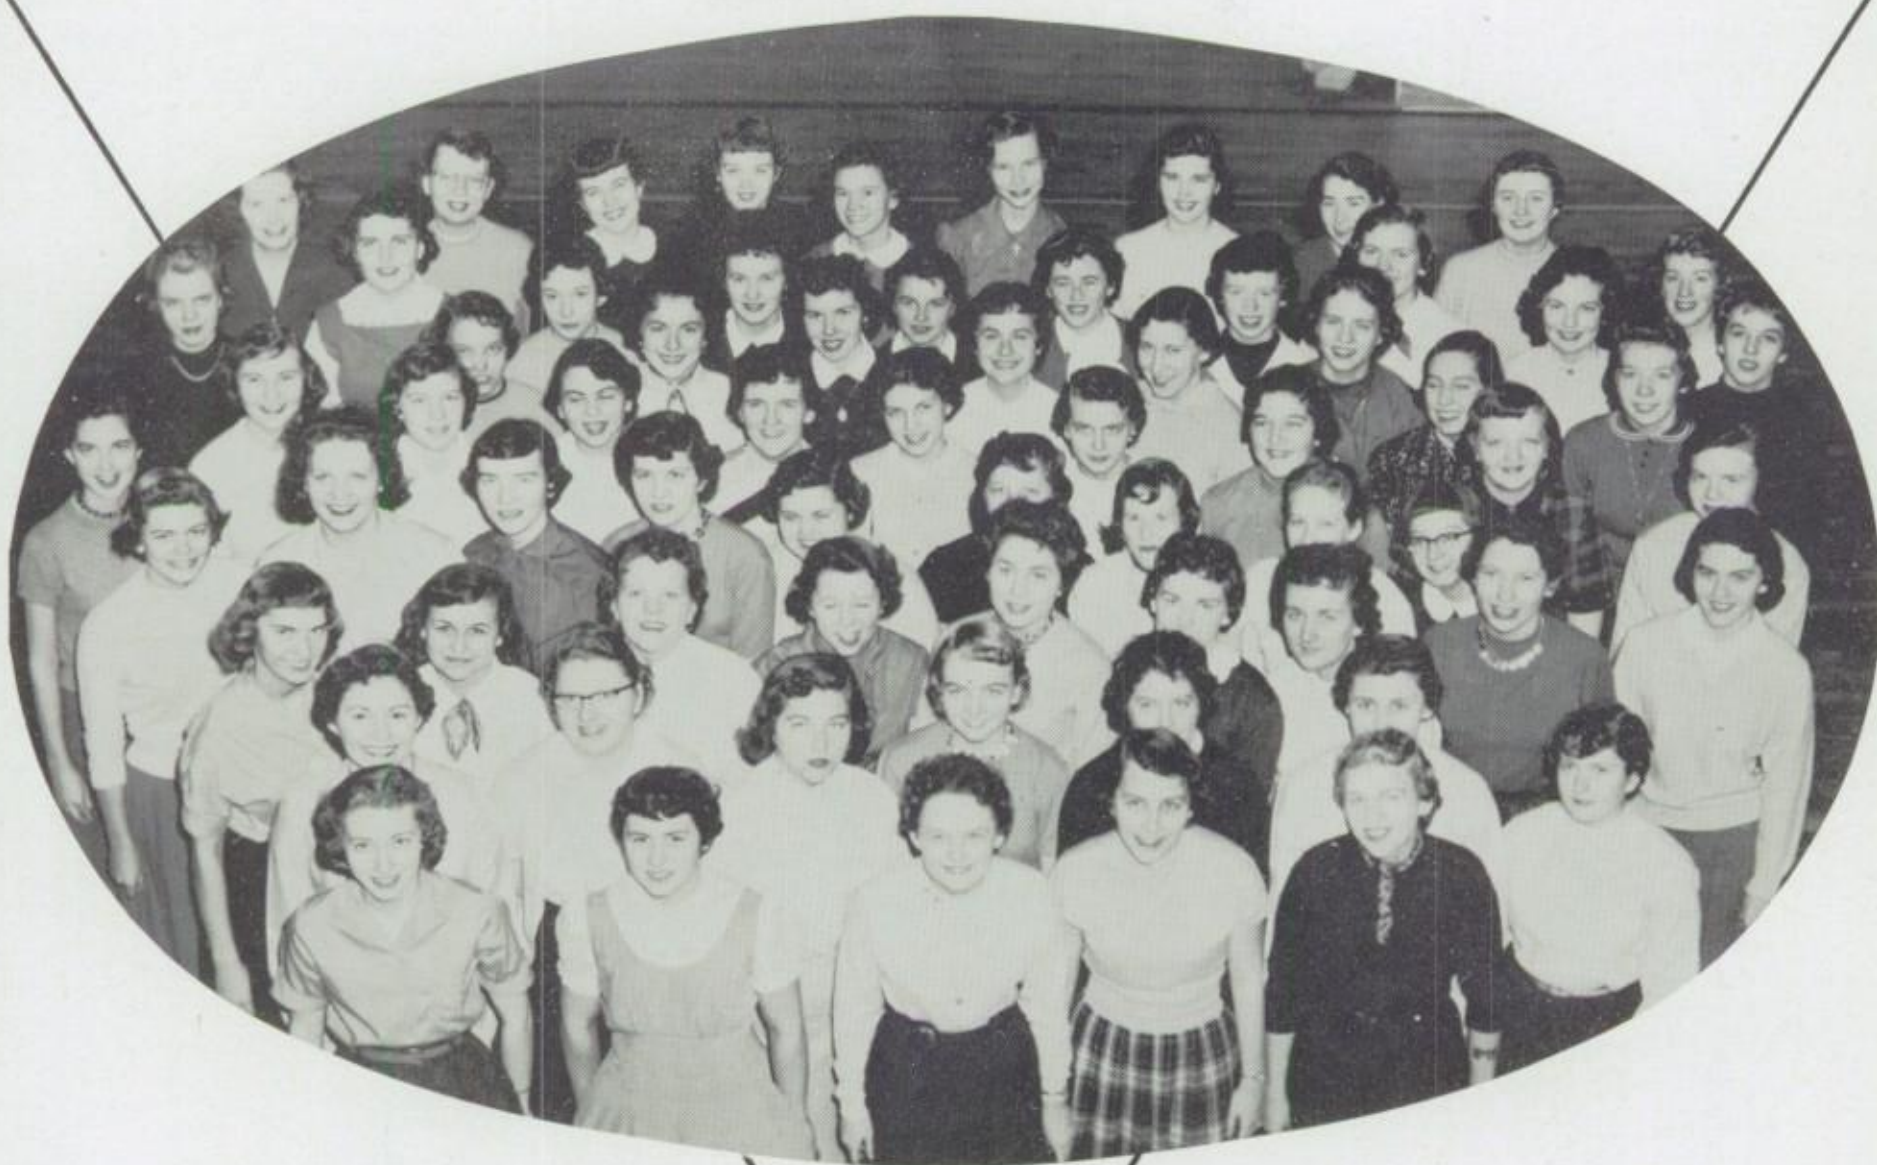

Lilting strains of Davy Crockett, buttons, ropes, and tin cans set the year of Junior Y-Teens into quick motion at the Welcoming Hobo Party last fall. Composed of freshman and sophomore girls, this junior branch of the YWCA filled a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family. A bake sale was held in February to raise additional funds for charitable purposes.

A panel discussion on dating, a swimming party, and a banquet to initiate new officers were other activities carried on throughout the year.

The officers, who planned and helped carry out all the activities of the Junior Y-Teens, were Diana Stokes, President; Linda Witte, Vice President; Sandra Hass, Secretary; Carol Anderson, Treasurer; Susan Campbell, Chaplain; and Jeanne Manning, Publicity Chairman.

SENIOR Y-TEENS

OFFICERS

OFFICERS

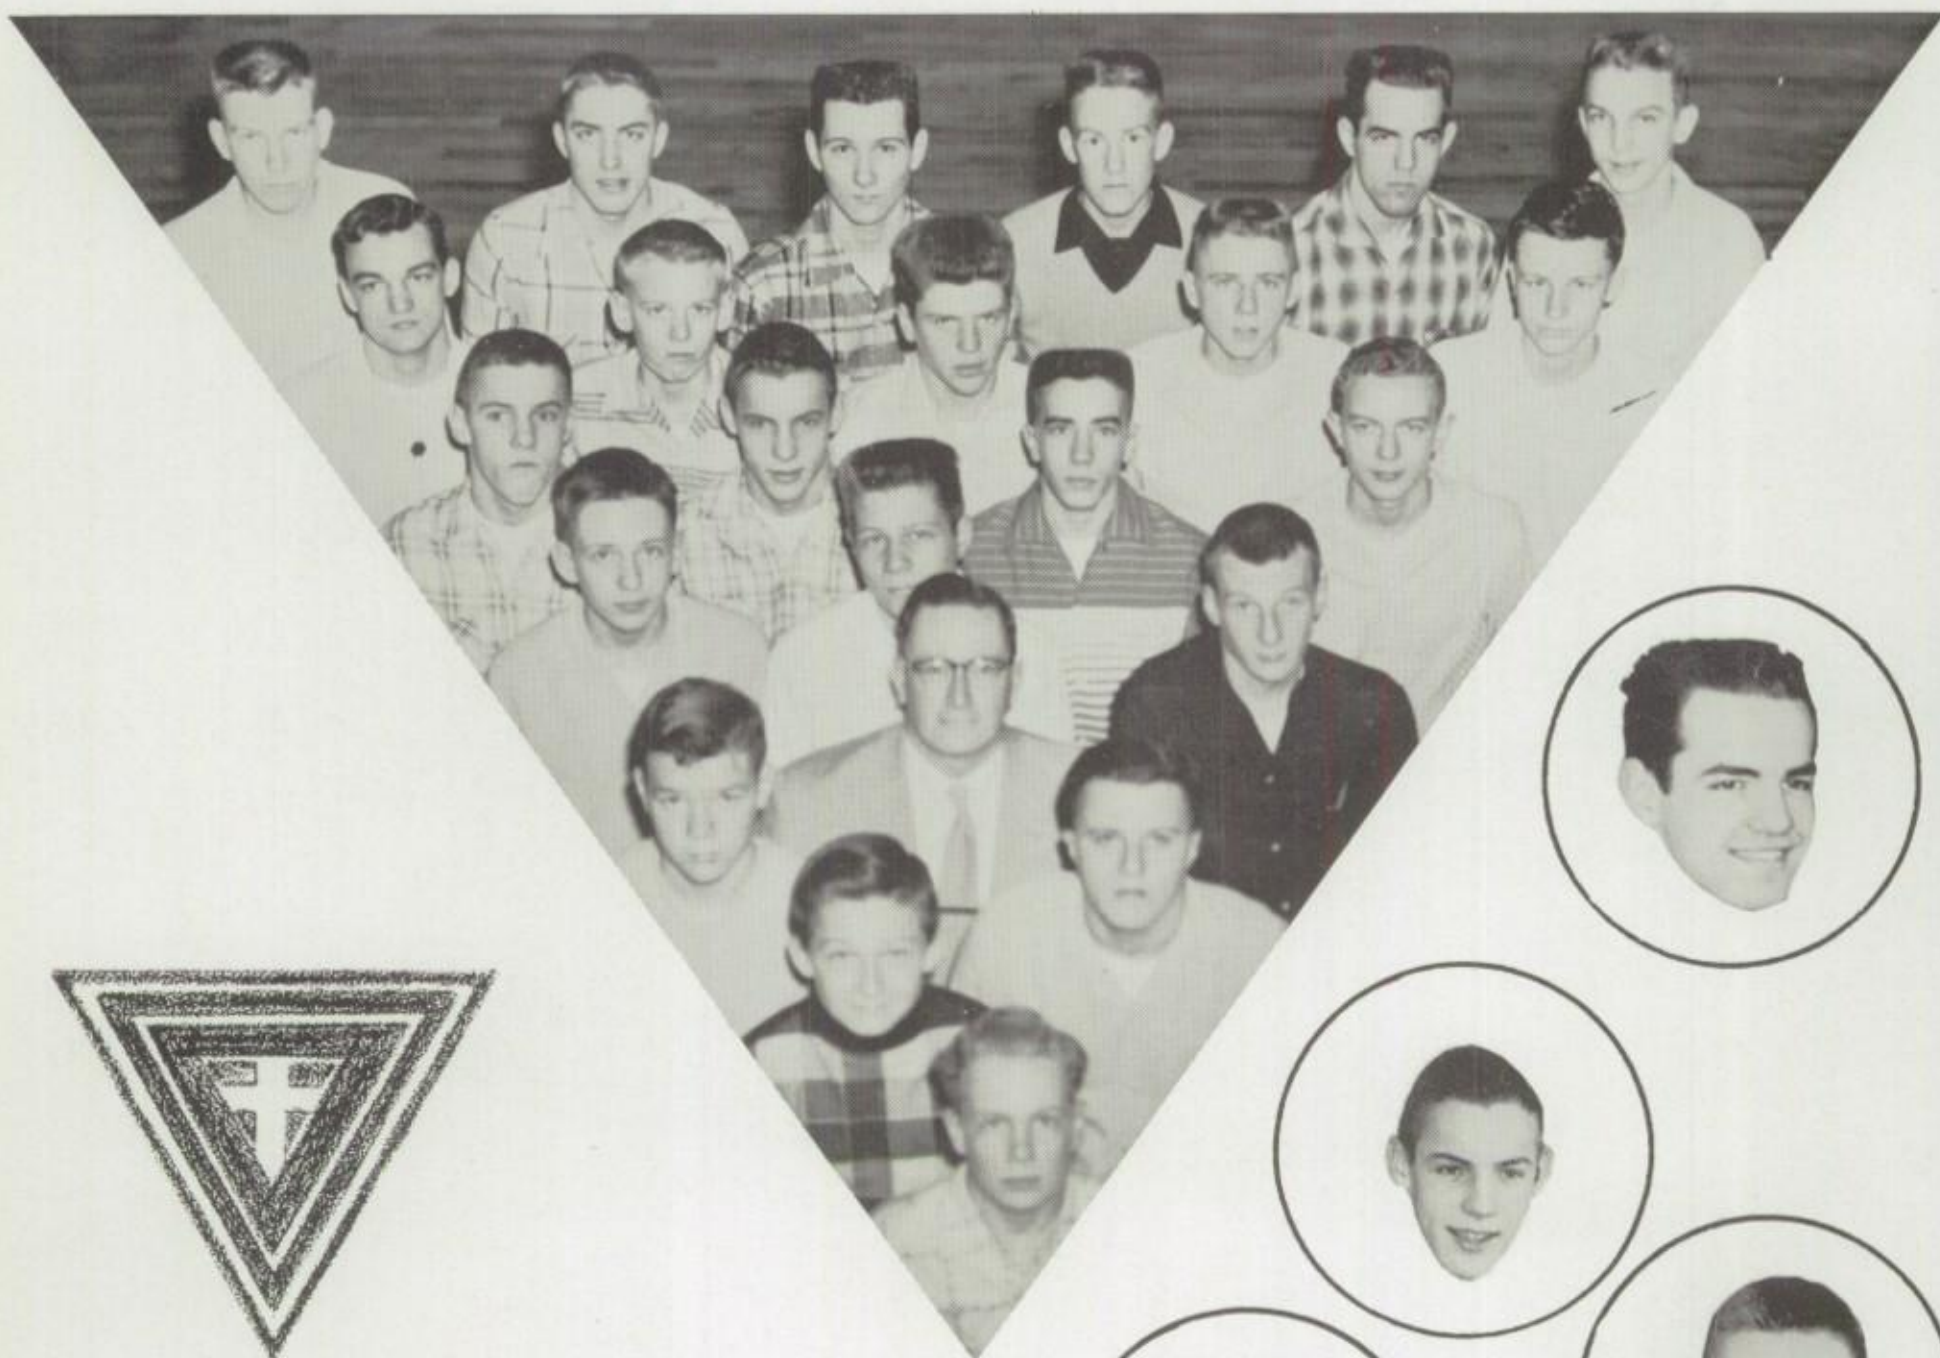

Junior and senior members of Senior Y-Teens, branch of the national YWCA, filled each month of 1955-56 with many versatile and worthwhile activities. After a swimming party in October the Y-Teens furiously planned and happily presented "Moments to Remember" a fall formal at the Coronado Lodge.

"Patrick," a hair stylist, demonstrated his profession on several "guinea pigs" at the December meeting. Several other speakers and another swimming meet were held during the year.

Living up to their reputation as a service organization, the Y-Teens gave food baskets on Thanksgiving and Easter to needy families, Christmas gifts for the Porter County Welfare, and a Christmas tree for the school.

JUNIOR HI-Y

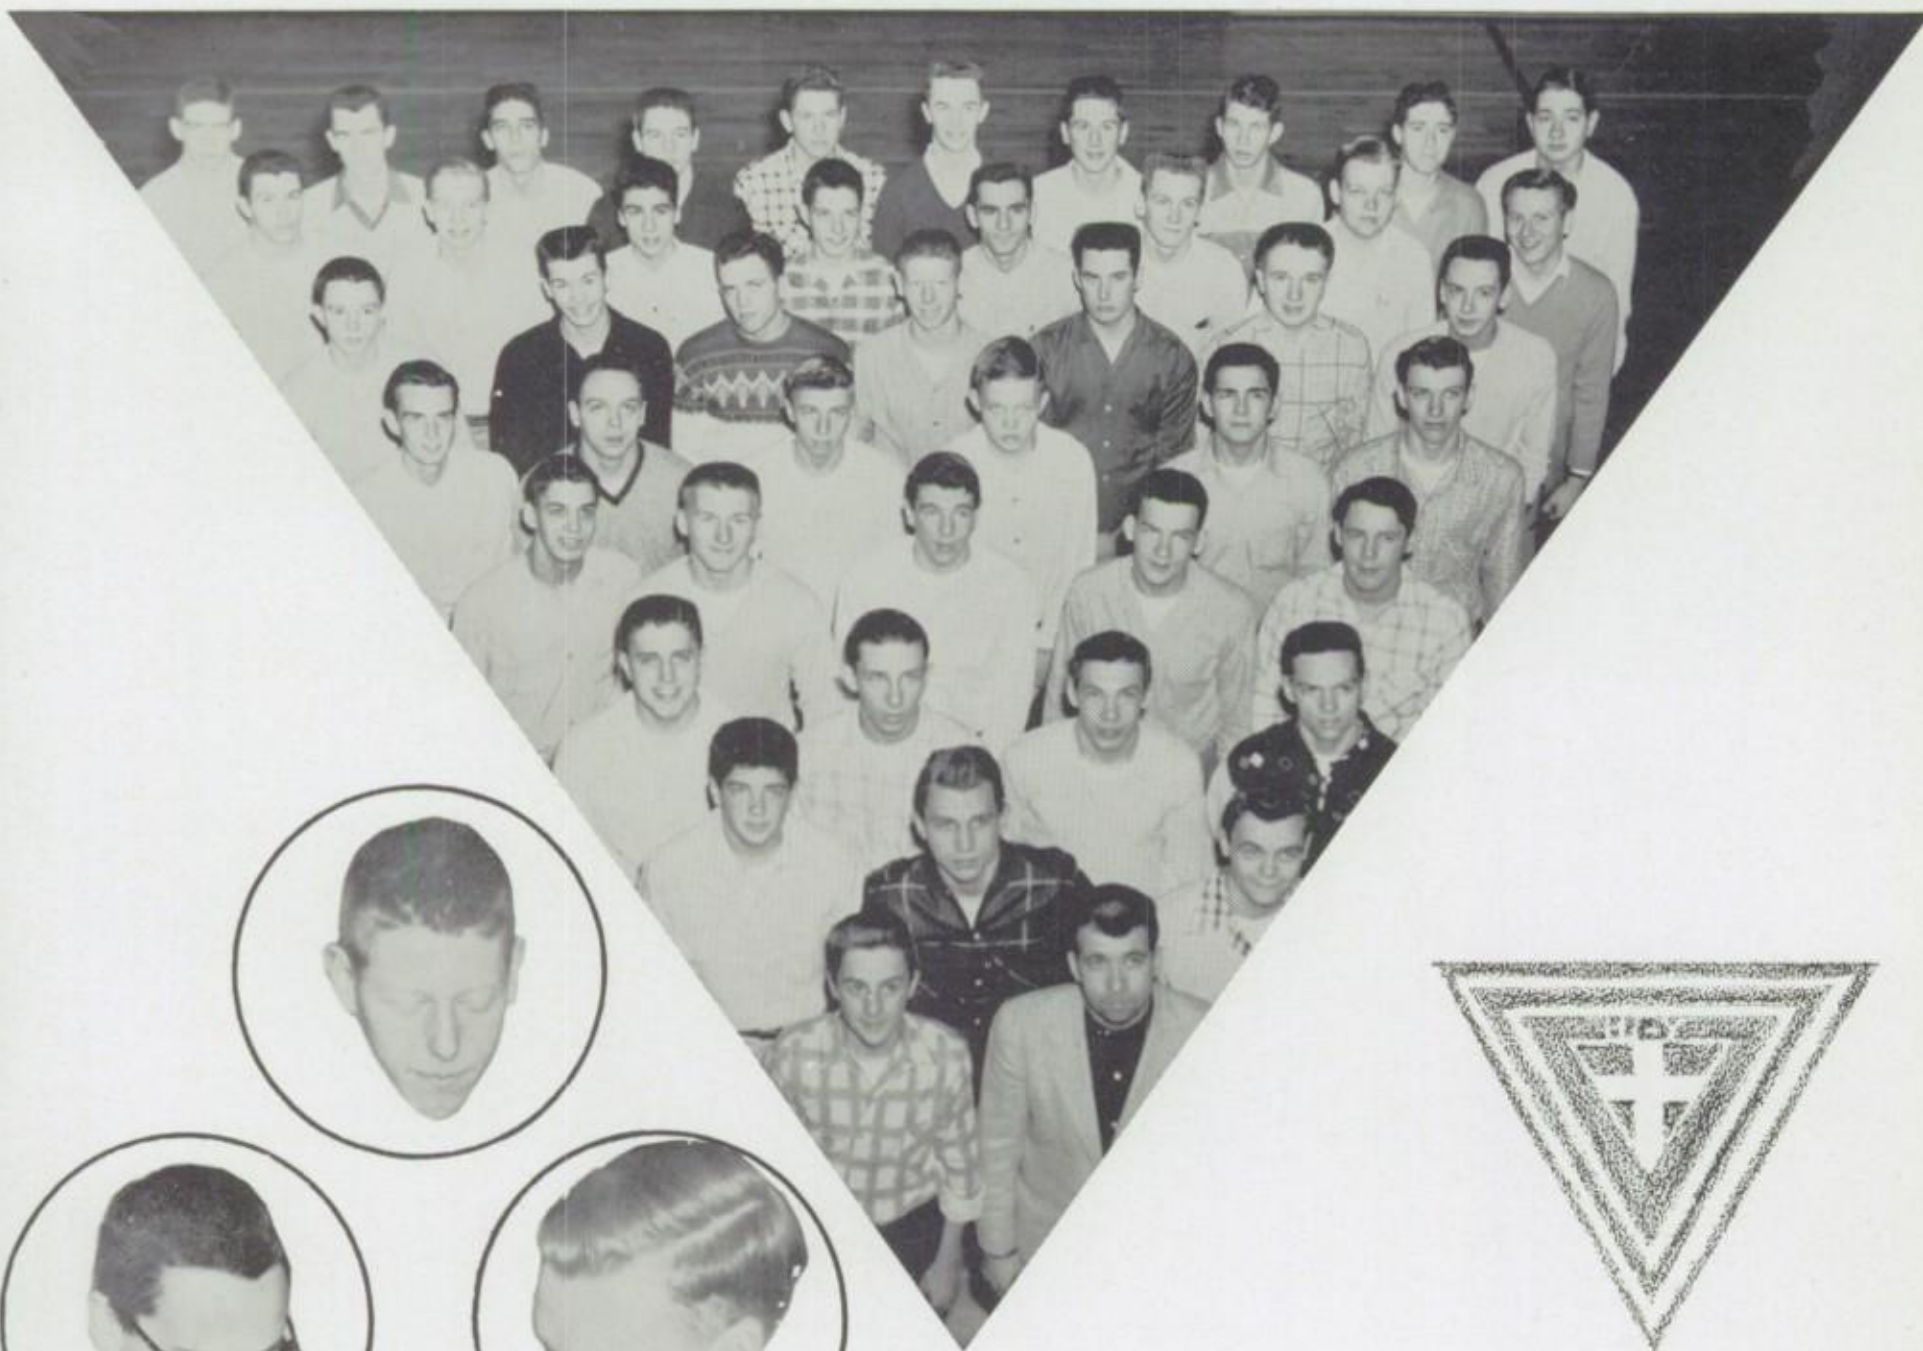

The Hi-Y is a Christian Organization, Its main function is to perform services for the community.

OFFICERS

The Junior Hi-Y under the leadership of Fred Mitchell, President; Don Wycoff, Vice President; Denny Dille, Secretary; Ron Wycoff, Treasurer; and Mr. Elwood Mull, Sponsor were in charge of an all-school Ping-Pong tournament. It was held in February.

SENIOR HI-Y

OFFICERS

The Senior Hi-Y began the new year by electing Allen Jensen, President; Bruce Bassett, Vice President; John Lascoe, Secretary; Bruce Granat, Treasurer; Mark Holmberg, Chaplain; Bob Marquardt, Committees Chairman.

This year's Hi-Y wanted to set goals higher than those of previous years. Finances were one of the many problems. Sock Hops and Bake Sales were projects used to bring the treasury to a higher status. Swimming and bowling were means of recreation used by the Hi-Y.

The Hi-Y teamed with the G.A.A. to sponsor a dance during the year. A "Spring" dance at Saidla's was sponsored by the Hi-Y. The organization was under the sponsorship of Mr. Cyral Turner and Mr. Joseph Koss.

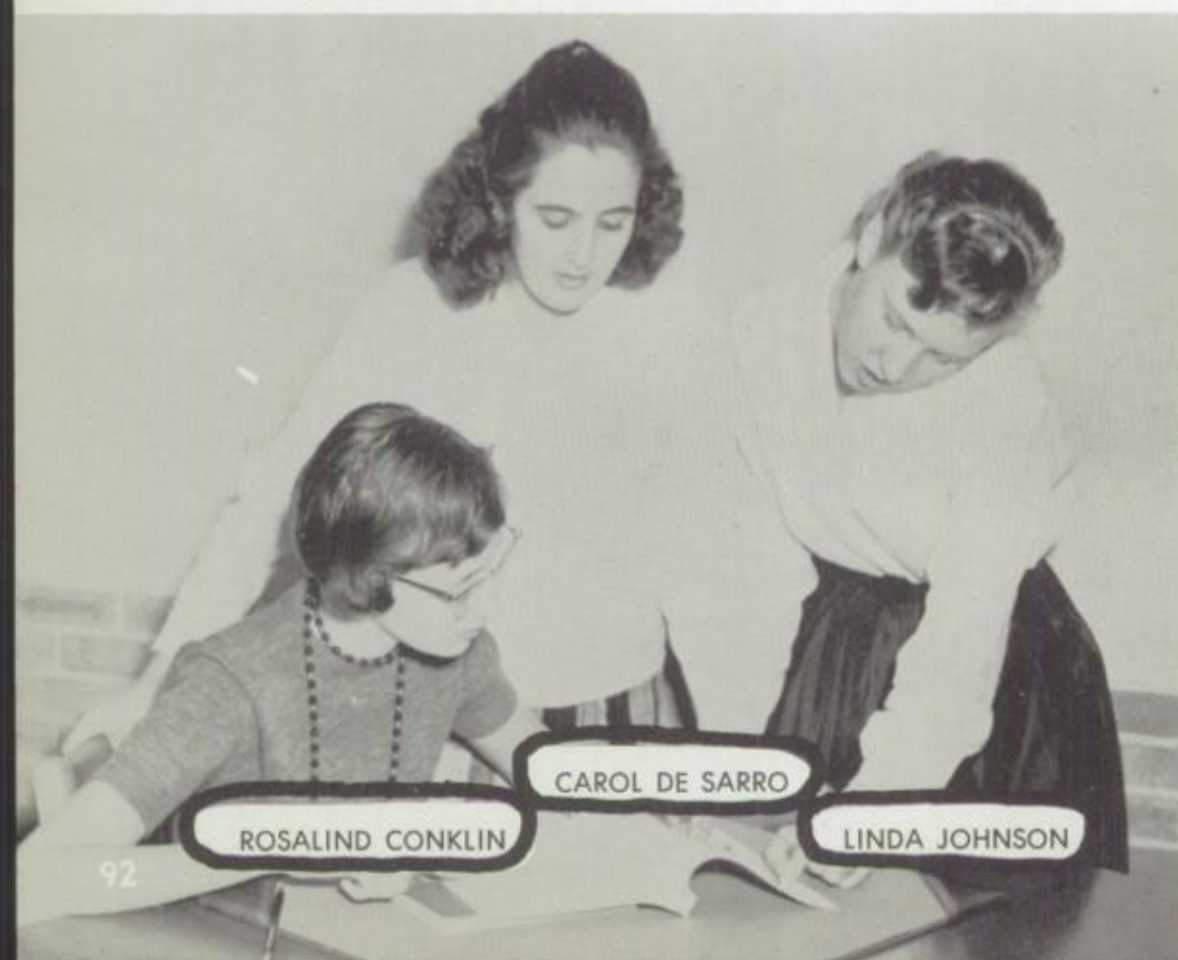

SPOTLIGHTERS

With Rosalind Conklin, President; Pat Burnside, Vice President; Linda Johnson, Secretary; Carol DeSarro, Treasurer, the students met with co-sponsors, Miss Cauffman and Mr. Pogue, once a month.

Entertainment was furnished at the Christmas convocation by the Spotlighters. "The Night Before Christmas," a one-act operetta, was staged by the thirty freshman and sophomore members.

A spring roundup held at the D Bar C Ranch provided a festive ending to an active year for the dramatists.

DRAMATICS

The Junior-Senior Dramatics began the year by electing Mark Holmberg, President; Kay Bergquist, Vice President; and Karen Wallin, Secretary-Treasurer.

Members of the club presented skits at each meeting, and afterwards refreshments were served.

Their activities in plays and speeches counted as points toward becoming members of the Thespian Society.

Miss Sayers and Miss Perkins sponsored this successful group.

The name "Debutants" was selected by the Senior Girls. This organization is not only Social, but it is also a working organization.

They planned and presented a Halloween program for the teenagers at Westville. During the Christmas season the Debutants accommodated the county poor people's home by putting on a Christmas program and party. They also had a Christmas party and exchange of gifts between themselves.

The Debutants had many candy and bake sales to reciprocate for the numerous parties and programs presented throughout the year.

EL CLUB DE ESPAÑOL

Spanish Club meetings are held once a month during class periods. Members study the cultural background, learn songs, and view movies depicting Spanish living.

A pre-lenten (El Carnival) celebration was enjoyed by the thirty members of the first year class at a member's home.

The second year Spanish students observed Christmas in Spanish style at a member's home.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society, being based on national rules this year, has revised its standards. According to the National rules, it is recommended that the membership be limited to 15 per cent of the Seniors and 5 per cent of the Juniors. This year fifteen seniors and six juniors met the requirements. Before being considered, seniors must have a "B" semester average for their first seven semesters. Juniors must have a "B" semester average for their first five semesters. After passing this, each senior high faculty member will rate them on character, leadership, and service.

A total of 20 points may be gained in the following manner. Each student may obtain four points for superior scholarship. These points are automatically doubled. Of 100 per cent, scholarship is 40 per cent; the remaining 60 per cent is based on the following qualities: leadership, service, and character. Four points for each quality and a sum of 12 points is the highest possible. This total combined with the points from scholarship equal the above possible 20.

The 1955-56 band history is a cavalcade of wonderful events, hardships, smiles, and achievements. Starting with the first practice in September, the budding musicians and Mr. Nick Paolisso, band director, worked toward the coveted goal of having a successful band.

A Combined band and chorus performance with Portage, and eight other concerts were added laurels to the participants of the band.

Tilden, J. Goldstein, P. Wallin, V. Hegberg, S. Hammilton, S. Holgren, B. Jarroll, D. Wisemann, J. Colley, D. Dille, L. Griswold, D. Fant, V. Hammond, S. Jensen, M. Holmberg. Back: Jackie Maney, B. Stillman, B. Davison, Mr. Paolisso, J. Holden, C. Samuelson, J. Leberg, E. Michaels.

On November 8, the band gave the first of their popular concerts. Three hundred music lovers were held spellbound as the tone of classics, popular, and marches filled the auditorium. Variety was the highlight of the concerts as several skits and novelty numbers were presented.

The hard-working music makers gained experience by participating in the Christmas Vespers, Porter County Music Festival, and the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. Concert at Valpo.

taken in November, where several soloists contributed their talents. Joining with the band, the chorus sang for the Chesterton Christmas Vespers, and in March they combined with Portage for their yearly concert.

JUNIOR CHORUS

SCIENCE CLUB

Under the leadership of Ben Howery, president; Bill Jeffrey, Vice President; Mark Holmberg, secretary; and Paul Glawe, treasurer, the Science Club devoted most of its time this year to raising money for the completion of the Goldsborough Memorial Greenhouse.

A trip to the Sci-Math Assembly at Purdue University was sponsored by the club, and to raise money, movies were taken of school activities and shown to the public. Corn was picked, and the Fourth Annual Botany Banquet was held. Helping to make this year a success were Mr. Turner, Mr. Looft, and Mr. Edman, sponsors.

BOOSTERS

Charged with dynamic spirit, the CHS boosters of 1955-56 filled the year with many varied and successful projects.

They braved a bumpy five-hour ride to Indianapolis to follow the speedy cross-country runners to the State Finals.

For the second consecutive year, Chester-ton was a two-way victor at the County Tourney, winning both the tournament and the cheering awards. Resplendent in maroon and gold arm bands and bow ties, the 160 Trojan Boosters, among other county schools, monopolized the attention of the spectators with their originality, volume, and loyalty.

BOOSTERS

Basketball queen, Priscilla Bagby, elected by popular vote, and her royal court, were featured at a "Coronation Dance" early in November. A "Thanks Team" sock hop was held after the last regular season game.

The club, sponsored by Faye Hall, produced the Boosters Minstrel. The dads, moms, townspeople, and teachers staged a rollicking show and raised over $600 for the Boosters.

For the first time in several years an Athletic Banquet, open to everyone, was organized. Several "sock hops" and a "full moon" dance were also held.

The Boosters willingly and loyally displayed their unflinching school spirit during defeat and victory alike.
